Grants offered for home repair

Both older and handicapped people who own their own homes and reside in Sierra Madre may be qualified to receive up to $6000 very soon in home improvements under the new home improvement program funded by the Community Development Commission and Sierra Madre Commission on aging.

The program started Mar. 25 at 9 a.m. and applications are available at City Hall, 232 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Those who qualify financially include the following:

No. persons in family	Maximum family income
1	$18,600
2	21,250
3	23,900
4	26,550
5	28,200
6	29,850
7	31,550
8	33,200

Those who wish to file for the program may require assistance in plumbing and electrical, roofing, termite control, energy-related improvements including insulation and heating, general improvements including painting and plastering, smoke detectors and handicap improvements.

Applicants are required to submit copies of the following documents in order to qualify for program participation: Deed of Trust to document home ownership and a copy of the latest Federal Income Tax Statement to verify annual income.

Qualified homeowners will receive the following assistance: an on-site inspector from the city will identify code violations and property deficiencies and will review other eligible property improvements; there will be a work writeup and an itemized cost estimate for all proposed work prepared; contractors' bids for cost reasonableness and conformity will be reviewed with the inspection report and work writeup; work in the process will be inspected to ensure compliance with the work writeup; and payment for appropriate work as contracted will be completed.

Limited rehabilitation funds of $87,600 will require applications to be considered on a first-come, first-serve basis with some weighting of the project and demonstrated need, according to City Administrator Jim McRea.

Willdan & Associates will screen all applications and determine the type of project needed in each case. They will also obtain bids, make sure the work is completed and pay the contractors.

Those who qualify for the grants will pay absolutely nothing for the work completed.

The Community Development Block Grant 13th year program and use allocation for 1987-1988 passed the Sierra Madre City Council last week with Councilman Sam Simpson making the total motion.

Trail race applications available

By Phyllis Chapman

Applications for the 21st Annual Mt. Wilson Trail Race, set for Saturday, May 23, are now available at Sierra Madre City Hall. Due to the steep, narrow trail the event is limited to the first 250 entrants. Deadline for applications to be received at City Hall is 5 p.m., Monday, May 11.

Pre-registration is a must with absolutely no race day registration — only check-in. Entries are not transferrable. Entry fee is $11 for adults with T-shirt, $9 for youths with T-shirt and $6 for any one entering and not ordering a shirt.

The race is open to men and women with age divisions starting at 10 - 14. Other divisions are 15 - 19, 20 - 29, 30 - 39, 40 - 49, 50 - 59 and 60 and over. Trophies are presented to the first overall male and female finishers. Prizes are awarded to the first through third place in all divisions. For entrants who are Sierra Madre residents there is also a separate division with prizes given to the fifth place.

The sanction and timing for the event is by The Athletic Congress (TAC) and the race course is a run of 8.6 miles. The start is on city streets at Baldwin Avenue and Kersting Court. Runners then head up Baldwin, make a right turn on Mira Monte to Mt. Wilson Trail and then up onto the trail where most of the race is run. Turn around point is Orchard Camp, located halfway up the mountain, and without a rest stop, runners then return to the starting point.

For further information contact Donna Harriman, Recreation Supervisor at City Hall, 355-7135 or Marty Ruggles Race Committee Chairman, 358-7871.

The Race Committee will hold their next meeting on Thursday, Mar. 26, 7:30 p.m. at the Senior Center and invites anyone interested to attend.

His international trade activities began as translator and export sales trainee for the Simmons Co. of Kenosha, Wis. and after that time he was stationed in Puerto Rico, Havana, Cuba and Mexico City. In 1955 he joined Bell & Howell.

Prior to joining EMAC, Gonzalez was a member of the board of directors of the Export Managers Club of Chicago and served as chairman of the membership committee, program chairman and treasurer.

Eighty-two school district superintendents in Los Angeles County and 63 independent schools have been sent invitations for their 3rd, 4th and 5th grades to attend the "Just Say No" (to drugs) rally scheduled at the Rose Bowl, May 15.

Tax-deductible donations are being sought for bus transportation at reduced rates for the school children. City files for 'Main Street'

Joan Reichardt has been hired by the city of Sierra Madre to compile an application for California Main Street which is due by Apr. 1. Terry Sanderson is downtown merchants' representative assisting her.

The Main Street Program, sponsored by the California Department of Commerce, is a project which encourages economic development as well as historic preservation in California cities. Five cities in California will be chosen by the end of April to participate in a three-year program which gives technical assistance leading toward revitalizing the town.

The State Department of Commerce, Office of Local Development, offers communities opportunities to improve local economies through economic development programs and technical assistance. Only towns having populations under 50,000 are eligible. Sierra Madre City Council unanimously authorized filing for the application in January with Mayor Pro Team Andrew Roy Buchan as liaison.

To participate, Sierra Madre must agree that a full-time project manager would be hired and the town needs to agree on the Main Street methodology: organization, promotion, design and economic

Set clocks forward Sunday

It's that time again — time to set your clocks one hour forward as of Sunday, Apr. 5.

Residents of the foothill area are reminded that their clocks must "spring forward" this weekend in conformance with Daylight Saving Time. Next fall, in October, that hour will be made up when clocks will be set back one hour.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

Love that library

The library. Even the word brings wonderfully pleasant memories of the smell of that sweet paste and dusty books.

From the first moment that I could actually string letters together into words — and word together into sentences — a certain magic entered my life. There was a whole new dimension. I could read. I was independent.

April 5 - 11 is National Library Week and this should be a banner year for Sierra Madreans to celebrate with the local library since our library is also celebrating its 100th year.

The Sierra Madre Library, according to Toni Buckner, city librarian, will give no fines during that special week (Apr. 6 - 12). All overdue library material will be received "with a smile" during this period of amnesty, she reports. However, overdue material from other libraries along with accounts that have already been forwarded to the collection agency will still be subject to fine.

Other special activities at the library taking place during this period are being announced.

Visit your library during this special week — National Library Week — and enjoy the special privilege of being able to read.

Under the Pepper Tree

by Jan Reed

● On April Fools Day we saw some strange police officers walking around town. Anyone know the identity of those people in the blue uniforms? Is this an April Fools joke?

● Greenfox Productions, Ltd. finished their filming in Sierra Madre last week and they tell us the movie will be released Oct. 15 in the Los Angeles basin. You'll see familiar Sierra Madre sights.

● Elizabeth Regez is in Santa Teresita Hospital as of last week. When we get more information, we'll let you know.

● Four Alverno High School students appeared in a nationally televised seminar last Friday. The session, produced by The Close Up Foundation, featured Valerie Surprerant, Sarah Kelsey, Serena Spencer and Jennifer Bray.

The session was taped earlier and included other students from around the country. Terrorism was addressed in the question and answer segment.

Congratulations to Alverno for having such outstanding students.

● Dr. John Quigley of Sierra Madre is a board member for Visiting Nurse Association. Robert Anderson has recently been elected to the presidency.

● Weather. It's always worth talking about.

In some parts of the country this winter has been one of the mildest ever.

Marbee James in Council Bluffs, Ia., tells us that Texans are planning to winter in Iowa from now on because Iowa weather this winter was so much milder than that in the south central state.

Brother Ham and sister — in — law Mae Reed tell us, however, that they were lucky to have been in Texas for the winter since their hometown, Aztec, N.M., had the worst weather and most snow in 41 years.

It was so bad, they tell us, that one of their dogs, a low-slung Basset hound, would have been high centered if she'd have stayed in Aztec this winter.

● With great sorrow Monday we heard of the death of a special friend, Jerry Morris, mechanic par excellence and Model T Ford (and all old cars) lover. We shall miss him greatly as a friend and as a supporter. No matter how he felt he was never without a joke or a little teasing. A very special man. . .

● "The Bates Motel" will be filmed in Sierra Madre on Apr. 8 and stars Bud Cort who appeared in the movie "Harold and Maude." More about that later. . .

Special thanks to athletes

Since 1972, when we first worked together in Sierra Madre Little League, many people, young and old have touched our hearts. Once again the people of Sierra Madre, through Little League Baseball, have made an indelible mark upon us.

To just say thank you seems so insignificant, but we extend a very sincere thank you to all of Sierra Madre Little League, the board, manager, coacher, players, and parents for giving us such special recognition. It has reached the depths of our emotions, and will be treasured for life.

Have a great season.

Thanks to The News

The members of the Sierra Madre Beautification Committee would like to express their great appreciation for your invaluable help in achieving our beautification goals for Sierra Madre.

Without the unstinting coverage given by The News for our various efforts such as the Sidewalk Art projects, hanging basket program, Wistaria Vine Open House and Free Plant Exchange, as well as our Wistaria Awards and Commendations, our beautification endeavors would not be possible.

A heartfelt thank you from us all!

Thanks for great homecoming coverage

We in the community would like to thank you for your wonderful coverage of last week's Sierra Madre City College homecoming activities. Your photos of the parage were great but we particularly like the picture of the Queen, even though we couldn't seem to identify her in the picture.

The action shots of the game were excellent and we hope you have submitted those in the library's photography contest.

Several of us have contacted the library and they have agreed to put all the photos of the Sierra Madre City College homecoming activities in the display section.

Thanks again for your continued good coverage of foothill activities.

Shirley Eckloff

THANKS TO.....

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who came to our yard sale last Saturday. The way they braved the elements to show support for our campaign was a real morale booster, and the $300 plus we collected was proof that we are not alone in wanting night-closure of Chantry Flats Road.

Many many thanks to you all.

Susan Hartley on behalf of Citizens for a Safer Sierra Madre.

Family grieves death of pet

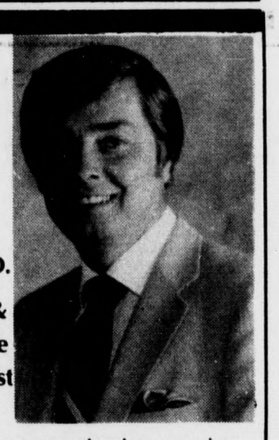

Last Monday morning our family cat was killed by a speeding driver while he was attempting to cross Lima St. It was very hard to explain to my two young daughters why the driver of the tan car did not even stop!

The speed limit on Lima Street is 25 mph not 52 mph.

If a police car were stationed anywhere on South Lima for morning or afternoon rush hour a safer street for our pets and children might be achieved!

Living with Others

By Donald A. Cardogan, Ph.D.
Psychotherapist & Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist

Basically, effective communication requires two major ingredients. First is your willingness to send clear, honest messages about your thoughts and feelings. In other words, no hidden statements, double meanings, or innuendoes. Say what you mean and mean what you say.

Also, when dealing with troublesome issues, these messages must be constructive, i.e. issues, these messages must be constructive, i.e. aimed at solving the problem rather than just expressing feelings designed primarily to hurt the other person. Insults, put-downs, or comments intended only to belittle your marital partner are destructive to your relationship and tend only to create more difficulties.

The second component in effective verbal interchange is your ability to listen to your partner's assertions in a manner that will encourage further communication. One excellent way to accomplish this is to avoid interrupting with defensive remarks. That is, allow your spouse to air his/her grievances without interference from you. This means you must listen even when you are being attacked.

If you must comment, confine them to clarifying questions or message reflections such as, "It sounds like you feel neglected when I watch television. You feel uncared about when I don't greet you at the door."

These illuminating restatements are even more potent when combined with genuinely empathic assertions such as, "You feel that you are being taken for granted. I know that can really hurt." Or "It must hurt you to feel unimportant to me."

This kind of attending has been termed Active Listening. It is a vital part of communication, for it helps the message sender feel heard, satisfied and, in turn, willing to listen.

Of the two elements — speaking and listening — the latter is probably the most difficult. There is no point in speaking to our spouses unless they are willing to hear us; and the better they listen, the more satisfied we feel.

The more adroitly we listen, the better our spouses will feel, resulting in a decrease in fruitless or destructive arguments. This, in turn, contributes to happier marital relations overall.

Sierra Madre Status Report

as of Mar. 24, 1987

Phase 1 of the water program is in its final stages.

The County of Los Angeles has delivered the deficiency report concerning the initial estimate of the cost for minimum improvements on Grandview.

Specific requests concerning the financial report from Councilman Bruce Crow are about one to two weeks away from completion, according to City Administrator Jim McRea.

T-shirt contest for July 4 logo

To raise money and stimulate even more interest in the July 4 parade and activities in Sierra Madre, the July 4 committee announced a T-shirt contest that is open to everyone in the surrounding communities, all ages, amateur and professional artists.

The logo ultimately chosen will become this year's July 4 logo.

Deadline for the renditions, to be prepared on 8½ x 11 paper, is Apr. 14, and all designs should be delivered to the Sierra Madre News, 9 Kersting Court.

The prospective logos may be done in black and white or in red and blue on a white background.

Winner of the contest will appear with his or her logo in a photo on the front page of The Sierra Madre News.

Thompson heads portapotty committee

Bill Thompson has accepted the position of "head" of the committee to obtain "portapotties" for the July 4 parade and after-parade activities at Memorial Park.

He annouced this week that sponsorships of these portapotties are available with the names of sponsors to be placed on the "roll" of honor. He noted with a grin that locations of these portable bathrooms would be placed in "Flushing Meadows" which is actually Memorial Park.

The committee believes that these sponsorships fill a need formerly ignored.

Thompson said that sponsorships cost $55 each and the sponsor's name would be placed on each facility, if desired.

Those wishing to be sponsors should call Thompson at his home at 355-4679 or at his business, 449-6414.

The next meeting of the July 4 committee is Apr. 15, 7:30 p.m., city hall.

I kept gaining and losing the same 20 pounds. Then I said, this time it's going to be different.

I tried every pill, every gimmick to lose weight. Only to feel miserable when I gained it all back. Finally I said no, never again—this time I'm going to Diet Center. I lost the weight, without hunger. And I'm keeping it off.

My only regret? Not going sooner!

On Stage

By Mary Cogswell Baum

Rep Tevye, supplier of mild to the Jewish community of Anatevka, an insignificant Russian village at the turn of the century, seems an unlikely candidate for Everyman. And yet "Fiddler on the Roof," the musical about him, has the distinction of having been played in more languages than any other, and is popular all over the world.

Is it because the quaintness of Anatevka is a symbol for every culture's conservative past? Is it because three of his daughters illustrate varying degrees of a youthful rebellion that is familiar everywhere? Is it because we envy Tevye's easy relationship with a God whose ways are mysterious but whose concern is never in doubt? Surely, all of the above.

Also it is a very useful musical, where the singing voices need not be wonderful, stereotyped acting is quite permissable, and certain stage tricks are inevitable effective. Get a good man to play Tevye and half the problems are solved. Naturally it is popular at schools.

In the current production of "Fiddler" at Pasadena City College, director Bruce Gill has brought most of its considerable charms to life. The dream sequence with a ghostly Grandma Tzeital (Elizabeth Pomierska) and a truly horrendous Fruma-Sarah (Benita Landsman) is particularly well managed. Jeffrey Niems makes a more realistic Tevye than most and holds things together well. Liz Bickley, Kathleen Ruhleder and Benita Landsman give the three eldest daughters distinctive personalities, and Art Gallego as motel, the tailor, has enough charm to explain Tzietel's passionate choice. Jeane Rae has fun with her sure-fire role as the match-maker.

They and the rest of the large cast have enough enthusiasm to overcome the awkward, oversized, inherited set ("The Fiddler never makes" it to the Roof!), and the occasional disagreements as to who is leading between the singers and the concealed orchestra.

"Fiddler on the Roof" has three more performances in Sexton Auditorium, Friday, Apr. 3, at 8 and Saturday, Apr. 4, at 2 and 8. For information, call 578-7485.

Fees go up Apr. 1

Admission fees to gardens operated by the Los Angeles County Department of Arboreta and Botanic Gardens increased on April 1, to $3, $1.50 and 75 cents, according to Francis Ching, director.

Kentucky Fried Chicken

By Joan Reichardt

Finger—lickin' good food right here in Sierra Madre! Our only franchised fast food establishment, at 345 West Sierra Madre Blvd., is owned by Marvin Rich of Diamond Bar and operated by Les Lewis.

Kentucky Fried Chicken is known by its secret herbs and spices which enhance the flavor of its pressure cooked chicken. "By the bucket, box or piece, you are guaranteed a treat."

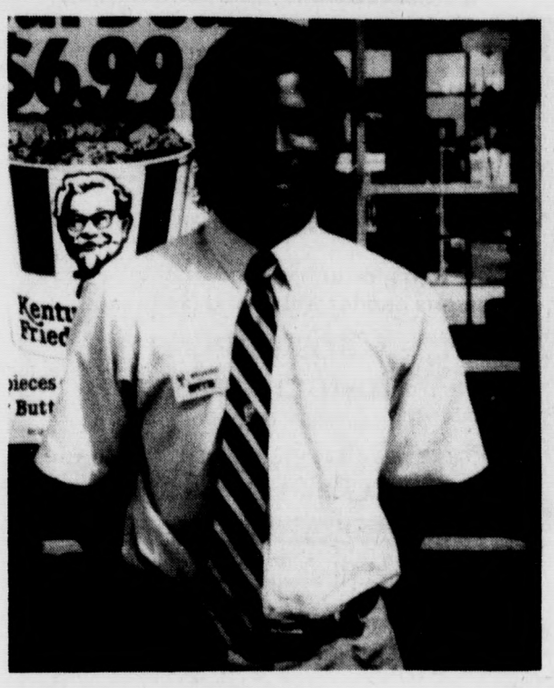

The restaurant also serves crispy chicken which is deep fried; nuggets, fries, mashed potaoes, gravy, and salads, drinks and desserts.

The owner, Marvin Rich, also owns 25 other Kentucky Fried Chicken franchises. And the number of locations is ever increasing.

Les Lewis, the manager of this fast food establishment lives in Cerritos with his mother. He says this job keeps him too busy to do anything else.

His assistant manager is Hector Banvelos. All the employees except Les work part-time, and all save Hector, Les and Carmen are in school. The other workers are: Claudia Munguia, Teresa Rodriguez, Miguel Rodriguez, Carmen Castel, Jose Amerquita, Timothy Mayors, and George Cuattroquin.

Kentucky Fried Chicken is open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day of the week. Let Les fix dinner for you one of these evenings real soon.

Arcadians storm Sacramento over severe school budget cuts

Seven representatives from Arcadia joined over 200 concerned citizens from Los Angeles County on a Sacramento Safari designed to impress upon legislators the need to improve funding for education.

Arcadians making the three-day trip to the Capitol were Glad Baquet, president of the Hugo Reid PTA; Mary Dougherty, school board member; Pam Dupre, first vice-president of Camino Grove PTA; Marlene McEntee, legislation chairman for Arcadia Council PTA; Adelle Skibba, Hugo Reid PTA first vice-president; and Joann Steinmeier, Arcadia PTA Council parliamentarian and president-elect.

Included in the delegation was Jackie Beamer, a teacher from Hugo Reid Elementary School.

Reporting at last week's meeting of the board of education, the delegates told of meeting with both Assemblyman Richard Mountjoy and Senator Newton Russell to express deep concern over the consequences if the governor's proposed budget should be implemented.

This would mean a shortfall of approximately $780,000 for the Arcadia Unified School district. That amount is equivalent to 25 to 30 teaching positions or 25 percent of the classified staff, explained Dougherty.

No school district funds were expended on this trip as individuals either paid their own way or were sponsored by PTAs, added Dougherty.

Bryant to be honored at Arcadia Chamber night

Marilyn Bryant will be honored and Stan Cruse will be installed at the annual Arcadia Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year and Installation of Officers dinner on Saturday, Apr. 4.

The Candlelight Pavilion Dinner Theater in Griswold's Claremont Center will be the scene for the evening's festivities which are scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. with the Citizen of the Year presentation slated for 6 p.m. Last year's award recipients, Herb Goddard and Don Pellegrino, will present the honor to Bryant.

Bryant is recognized for her many years of volunteer service at the various PTA levels in Arcadia and, in particular, for her leadership in the anti-drug campaign.

At 6:30 p.m. dinner will be served with a choice of three entrees being offered.

Installation of the newly elected Chamber of Commerce officers will follow dinner. In addition to Cruse, Joseph Ciraulo will be installed as first vice-president; Carl Reinhardt, second vice-president; and Donald Kennedy, treasurer.

Follow these festivities, "The King and I" will be performed.

Reservations for the evening are $48 per person and may be made by calling the Chamber at 447-2159.

Bryant names campaign workers

Carol Libby has been named chairman of the Committee to Re-elect Jim Bryant to the Arcadia Board of Education.

Bryant is one of three incumbents in the four-man race for three seats on the board. Incumbents Michael Allison and Robert Kladifko and challenger Gene Shepherd are also on the ballot for the April 12 election.

Treasurer for Bryant's campaign is Rex Courtright while Sara Goodno is activities chairman.

Others on the committee include Jerry and Dottie Burnett, Jack and Joan Cline, Dr. John Goodno, Hugh and Martha Henderson, Jeff and Joanne Hudson, Nick and Carol Nicoli, Eleanor Powell and Pat Wallace.

Plans have been made for a fundraiser on Apr. 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the Cheyenne Supper Club in Arcadia and a coffee at the home of Pete and Dottie Humason on Apr. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Additional events will be obtained by calling Carol Libby at 447-1422.

Pepsi wins

The Arcadia Recreation Department's Mens Basketball League just ended with Pepsi Co. as champions. During the 10-game league, Pepsi compiled a record of nine wins and only one loss.

Last year's champions, Pepper's finished second with an eight-win, two-loss record. Jensen's Sprinklers took third place with seven wins and three losses.

The runners-up were The Running Dogs (3-7), Vidtronics Past (2-8), and The Excuse (1-9).

Top Shooter for the league was Bob Peterson of Pepper's who averaged 20.2 points per game. He was followed by Scott Cowan (Pepsi) with an average of 18.0 points; Curtis Booker (Running Dogs) with 16.0 points; and Tom Campbell (Pepper's) averaging 15.6 points.

Arcadia celebrates Library Week

Each year in April, the American Library Association sets aside time to encourage and further interest in libraries and reading. This year the slogan for National Library Week is "Take Time to Read," and the Jerry Broadwell Children's Room of the Arcadia Public Library will be celebrating with special displays and programming all during the month.

Jo Tickey of Temple City will exhibit her hand-crafted decorated eggs in white.

Special programs will include a safety presentation on Tuesday, Apr. 7, at 1 p.m.; an Easter party on Monday, Apr. 13 at 4 p.m. and Sgt. Aaron Williams on Thursday, Apr. 23 at 4 p.m.

For further information, please call the Children's Room at 446-7112.

Antique auction at Thrift Shop

Another antique auction will be put on at the Arcadia Welfare and Thrift Shop, 323 N. First Ave., Apr. 6. Preview begins at 6 p.m. and the auction starts at 7, with auctioneer John Freeman presiding over the bidding of some 60 items.

The shop also operates a department store, offering a great variety of donated items at bargain prices.

Arcadia Garden Club meets at arboretum

"Drip Irrigation for Home Landscaping" will be the topic of the Wednesday, Apr. 8, meeting of the Arcadia Garden Club. The event will begin at 9:30 a.m. for coffee in the Lecture Hall of the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, 301 No. Baldwin Ave., Arcadia.

Don Delano, technician of ornamental horticulture at Cal Poly Pomona, will discuss the irrigation topic, according to program chairman Phyllis Cheek.

Drip irrigation saves water and is better for plants, adds Lolita Schulte, Garden Club spokesperson.

Short named soccer MVP

Sarah Short, Arcadia High School senior, was named the Most Valuable Player of the girls soccer team that won the Pacific League Championship and advanced to the semi-finals of 3A CIF playoffs before being defeated 2-1 by San Gorgonio, the eventual division winners.

During the season, Short made 137 goal saves and helped the Apaches realize 14 shutouts.

She also was recognized as an MVP for volleyball, a sport she plans on playing next year at California State University, Fresno.

Arcadia's co-captains and three year lettermen, Kristen Cooke and Teri Smaldino, received co-inspirational awards.

Cooke, the Pacific League's MVP, led Arcadia's team in assists and was second in scoring for the last two consecutive years. She is credited with 10 assists and nine goals this year.

Smaldino led the Apaches in scoring with 15 goals for the season.

Wendy Dressen received an award as the outstanding defensive player for the year. All four girls that were honored have been named to the first team All-Pacific League.

Also receiving special recognition for his contribution to the success of the team was the trainer, Kevin Hearn, according to assistant coach John Garton.

ACID DAMAGE ON BLENDED FABRICS

There is a phenomenon with blended fabrics where acid damage removes only one fiber — leaving an area that looks like a grease stain.

This often happens when polyester is blended with cotton, rayon, silk or wool.

These fibers are susceptible to acid. Once damaged, they sluff off (disappear) during cleaning, laundering and even from the abrasion of wearing.

If the lost threads are lighter than the polyester, the damaged area looks like a grease or oil stain. Hold the fabric up to the light. You will see that part of the fabric is gone and only a thin layer of the polyester threads remain.

There is no way to correct the problem, only to prevent it.

With blended fabrics as with any of your wardrobe, you can be assured that they will have the finest care possible at Pantorium Cleaners.

Beautiful cleaning, excellent spot removal and fine pressing. The finished product will make you feel proud of how you look.

That's really one of the reasons for clothes, isn't it — to make us look better.

REAL ESTATE

Money facts and fantasies

The earliest American investors used to meet their brokers under an old buttonwood tree on Wall Street in New York City. They organized the New York Stock Exchange in 1792.

Today, telecommunication gives investors access to information. However, regardless of how much money you have to invest, the results you get depend not only on what you do, but what you don't do.

Here's advice to help you in planning your investment portfolio.

On approach to investing in the stock market for conservative investors that's given little attention is an income-oriented equity strategy paying high dividends — reinvested dividends.

This investment approach allows the investor to benefit from above-average dividend income with the potential for future growth of dividend income and capital appreciation. Holding stocks paying above-average dividends have other advantages as well. In times of market downturns, the yield serves to cushion the decline in a stock's price — as long as dividends are maintained.

Many investors have looked to mutual funds for this type of conservative stock investment. Some companies invest primarily in securities of high quality companies which pay well-above average dividends and have potential for growth of dividends and capital.

According to investment experts objective is to help you build a portfolio that provides you with a higher level of current income than is generally available for the "average" common stock. In addition to a superior level of income, shareholders should also experience less principal volatility than that of the typical stock fund.

Sheriff named at Caldwell Banker

Fred A. Sheriff has been named national marketing director-investments for Coldwell Banker Commercial Real Estate Service's network of 91 full-service offices located throughout the country.

In making the announcement, President James J. Didion said that Sheriff's appointment is part of an ongoing program to increase the company's support levels to its investment sales personnel.

During 1986, the last full year for which statistics are available, Coldwell Banker investment personnel participated in 992 sales transactions valued at more than $3.3 billion.

Realtors' language confusing

There are literally hundreds of common English words which don't mean the same things to these professionals as they do to you and me. For instance, a balloon to a lender is not for celebration. And when it comes due, a balloon usually does not make a borrower joyful. A balloon is a final payment on a loan that is much larger than regular payments. In order to keep their commitment to a short period, a bank may arrange a five year loan calling for 59 payments of $800 and a last payment of $60,000. The borrower is expected to renegotiate another mortgage for the $60,000 with the banker or another lender. Many times this is due when mortgage money is tight or the borrower's credit rating has been tarnished and the balloon cannot be refinanced. Result? Another home for the sheriff to sell at the auction.

If you find a bird dog at your door, don't call the ASPCA. She is a canvasser trying to get "leads," which could result in real estate listings or home improvement sales.

A kite winder won't help you keep that high flier in the air. To a builder or architect, a kite winder is those few steps that take you around the curve in a stairway.

You may think that Mother Hubbard is a woman, a dress or a cupboard. Not in the mortgage business. To them, Mother Hubbard is a clause in a loan agreement that allows the lender, in the case of default, to foreclose not only on the mortgage but on any other collateralized loan they own.

A builder keeps light in the window, sometimes six lights. A light is one section of glass in the window sash. A weep hole isn't where you cry when the mortgage payment comes due, it's a hole in the siding that permits moisture to leave the home. Prescription in lawyer language is acquiring a property through adverse possession. A parcel is a piece of property.

Places to go and things to see . . .

Tomorrow I fly again. To know me is to know a truly terrible flyer. I get no enjoyment in it. The only reason I go anywhere by air is to save time and energy. I sit in the smoking section, even though I don't smoke, because the people I have known who are fliers say that in most cases the back stays together and that's where survivors usually are. I have been doing this for 20 years.

The really ironic thing is that some of the funniest things have happened to me on flights or at airports. My last flight a month ago was a beaut.

As the plane landed in Sacramento, and taxied to the gate, we got the same old message that goes "have a nice stay" and "when you are flying again be sure to catch our smile" and "stay in your seat until the sign goes off." Then there was a pause, the click of the P.A. coming back on, and then an a capella voice singing the theme to the Carol Burnett show: "It's So Nice We've Had This Time Together . . ." The entire song. Talk about your captive audience. I couldn't help but chuckle at the craziness of it all. The man across the isle from me shouted GONG. Everyone applauded, I don't know whether it was for the man or the stewardess.

Wait, there's more!!

The weekend happened to be the State Republican Convention, which had nothing whatever to go with my trip, except the plane was full of GOPs on the way home Sunday night.

A man took the seat across the aisle. He spoke to people sitting around me about the weekend turns of event and I knew I had heard that voice before. It was, is, a beautiful, crystal clear, music to the ears kind of voice. I stared but could not place the face. Wavy red-blond hair, with a lock sort of falling down. A full red-blond beard, soft, well-trimmed. And monogrammed everything. R K D on his shirt, his carry-on luggage, I was immediately sure it was on his underwear. R K D. I closed my eye and tried to let the voice bring the face that matched it to my mind.

There was no doubt that he was a politician. He never stopped talking the entire trip. I have never seen anyone else read a magazine and talk at the same time. He talked about skiing to his seat mates, who were fresh from the slopes. He'd skiied all over. Who was this guy? Then we heard about his office in Santa Monica. More clues. Must be Washington. Okay, now I really started to concentrate.

Then I got it. Robert K. Dornan. California's man in Washington. He's a Republican, all right. This one is so conservative that HE DOESN'T EVEN HAVE A LEFT HAND.

It was the beard that did it. I hadn't seen him with the new hair growth. I almost asked for an autograph. Then I had a crazy thought: What if he got a hold of the microphone as we taxied to the gate? Catch what?

Tips, Tales & Tantalizers

All right, now without all of you running to your wallets, can you tell me whose face is on a $100 bill? While the majority of readers might know, some of us readers don't — so I'll tell you. It's good old Benjamin Franklin. Now, perhaps you know whos on the $20 bill. Still don't know? Well, that is Andrew Jackson. The $10 is George Hamilton — I mean Alexander Hamilton.

And I guess you are wondering just how a face is chosen for our currency. An Act of Congress in 1962 decided that the Secretary of the Treasury should be the one responsible for choosing the "money portrait." However, the portraits on our currency today was decided on by Andrew W. Mellon in 1925.

At one time, Martha Washington was honored — in 1886 — and in 1896 a whole educational series was printed including the Washington Monument and the names of great Americans in wreaths. And for those of you remembering the ill-fated $2 bill, it was good old Thomas Jefferson who serenely gazed at us from the green.

But if you are like me, and you really don't take too much notice who is on a note — until that is, you have to pay a bill — you might just try to learn. Even if you have to go to the bank and ask. I mean you never know who might ask you that question, and it will be the MILLION DOLLAR QUESTION. Oh, who is on a $1 million bill? I don't have the foggiest!

Douglass & Zook Mortuary — Colonial Chapel of the Foothills

March 31, 1987

Dear Friends & Neighbors
of Sierra Madre,

As many of you are aware, Ripple Mortuary closed its doors and the records of 65 years of serving Sierra Madre were moved to Douglass & Zook Mortuary, Monrovia in December 1981.

At that time our phone lines, 355-3414, were also moved to Douglass & Zook for the convenience of our families and friends in Sierra Madre. At this time however, more than 5 years since the transformation was accomplished, we now feel that the expensive, 355-3414 lines can be disconnected.

In a recent study, we have found that most of the Sierra Madre community has learned that a call to one of the original Douglass & Zook phone numbers will not only give them prompt, courteous attention from the Zook family -- it will also get them yours truly, when requested. Yes, I am still on "semi-retired" status and serving my beloved community of Sierra Madre at Douglass & Zook most every day!

Although the disconnected Sierra Madre number will be put on referral for about a year, please amend your records to show that Sterling T. Ripple, and the Zooks at Douglass & Zook Mortuary, Monrovia, can be contacted 24-hours-a-day, if needed, by dialing either 818 number: 358-3244 or 358-1157.

Thanks again for your confidence in allowing me to serve the city of Sierra Madre over these past forty years!

Sincerely,

Sterling T. Ripple

Congregational

"Purge Out Immorality" will be the topic of Pastor Richard Anderson's sermon on Sunday, Apr. 5, in the Sanctuary, at all three morning services, 8:15, 9:45, and 11:15 a.m. His Biblical reference will be I Corinthians, chapter 5, verses 1 through 13.

There is no place for immorality in the life of an individual believer or in the life of the local church. Too often, such behavior is ignored rather than confronted and dealt with biblically. Paul teaches the Corinthian church specifically how to deal with a professing Christian who is guilty of sin. The rationale is clear — either the sin is repented of, or the unrepentant "brother" is put out of the fellowship.

At the 6 p.m. evening service, Pastor Anderson's sermon will be a continuation of the Christian leadership series.

Lutheran -W.E.L.S.-

The sermon theme for next Sunday at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Sierra Madre is: "Great Treasure." Sunday School and Coffee Hour follow. The Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Lenten Service on April 8, has as its theme: "Made To Be Sin." We invite you to be our guests.

We Lutherans believe that the three ecumenical creeds: the Apostles'; the Nicene, and the Athanasian; as well as the Lutheran Confessions as contained in the Book of Concord of 1580 give expression to the true doctrine of Scripture. Since the doctrines they confess are drawn from Scripture alone we feel ourselves bound to them in our faith and life. Therefore all preaching and teaching in our churches and schools must be in harmony with these confessions.

--"This We Believe"--

Methodist

A series of Lenten sermons continue this Sunday at the Sierra Madre United Methodist Church. Rev. H. Elwood Wissmann will be preaching on the topic, "Old Words for New Experiences — Justice" at the 9:30 morning worship service. Nursery and child care are provided during this hour.

Church School classes for children through grade six are also held at the 9:30 hour. The Adult Study Group meets at 10:45 on Sunday morning in the Lounge. Rev. Wissmann continues a special Lenten study on The Sermon on the Mount.

The Board of Trustees will meet this Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., for their regular monthly meeting. The Women's Prayer and Support Group meets on Monday, 7:30 p.m., at the Parsonage. The Afternoon Prayer and Support Group meets Thursdays, 2 p.m., in the Lounge. Aldersgate Choir rehearses on Thursday, 7:30 p.m., in the Choir Room.

Sierra Christian Fellowship

How would you parents like to do a better job of parenting? I know I would, and we are having a 4-week seminar based on the excellent series, "Growing Kids God's Way." This series will take place at the home of Stephen and Carole Farrell on Wednesday nights. If you are interested in the important series, please call 355-5135. Obituaries

Georgyne LaLone Sr.

Georgyne Alice Norris LaLone Sr. died Mar. 23 after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. LaLone was a native Sierra Madrean, having been born Aug. 30, 1924 in Sierra Madre, the daughter of George and Nina Norris and the granddaughter of pioneer merchant Stephen Norris.

In addition to being a member of the Norris Family Orchestra headed by her mother, Georgyne was also a Spanish dancer.

On July 3, 1981 she was crowned queen of the Sierra Madre Centennial because she had resided continuously in Sierra Madre since her birth.

She was known around the community as "Aunt" Georgyne, not only to her relatives but to many other children. Her friends say, "Hers was the gift to make others feel that they mattered, completely."

She is survived by her husband, Edward LaLone Sr.; daughter Georgyne Jr.; son Edward Jr.; twin sister, Mauryne Mitchell of Arcadia; sisters, Katharine Brown of Irvine, Donna Stevenson of Northridge, Diana Stevenson of Long Beach; brother, Norris Kellogg Norris of Sierra Madre; and many nieces and nephews. Her sister, Nina (Peggy) Howbert, preceded her in death four months ago.

Those who wish to remember Mrs. LaLone with a memorial should consider donations to the City of Hope.

Memorial services are planned for Doris Huelin Difley, 87, on Saturday, Apr. 11, 4 p.m. on her 88th birthday. Rev. Stanley Reed will officiate at the service at Fellowship Hall, Bethany Church.

Mrs. Difley died at her home Mar. 28.

Mrs. Difley was born in Kittery Point, Me. and had lived in Sierra Madre for 47 years. She was a practical nurse to private families.

Surviving her are two sons, George James Williamson, La Puente; John Archibald Difley of Sandy, Utah; and three daughters, Martha Douglas Boenke, Portland, Ore., Ruth D. Difley of Sierra Madre and Mary C. Jack of Visalia. Also surviving are seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Jerrel M. Morris

Funeral services were held Tuesday, 2:30 p.m. for Jerrel M. Morris, longtime Sierra Madrean, who died at 3:45 p.m. Friday at Methodist Hospital. Services were at Congregational Church. Mr. Morris' remains were interred under an oak tree in Sierra Madre Cemetery. Rev. Richard Anderson officiated at the services.

Mr. Morris was known for his love of old cars and he owned several of them. He was often seen driving one of his cars in various parades and weddings in the community of Sierra Madre. In his honor, many of his friends who also have antique cars drove their cars to the services.

Following the services, a wake was held at the Recreation Center at Sierra Vista Park.

Mr. Morris was born in 1914 and was raised in Oskloosa, Ia. He came to California in 1937 and to Sierra Madre in 1945.

He and his wife, Mary, would have been married 49 years next week, Apr. 4.

Mr. Morris was a machinist, a master tool and die maker. He retired 10 years ago since he would rather work on old cars.

Of him, his sons say, "He made his whole life out of being a good guy. I don't know of anyone who affected more people and believed in all people."

Survivors, besides his wife, Mary, include two sons, Dan of Sierra Madre and Joe of Temple City. There are also four grandchildren: Joe, Jennifer, David and Wendy, and a grandson-in-law, Glen Roeters of Huntington Beach.

The family urges those who wish to remember Mr. Morris to send donations to C.L.I.M.B., the school for the blind and multi-handicapped young people in Sierra Madre.

restructuring.

If chosen, Sierra Madre would not receive financial assistance but would receive technical assistance that would equal about $250,000 from Commerce and the National Trust Staff. A needs assessment would be conducted and specialists in the areas of organization, design, promotion and economic restructuring would provide training for a local project manager who would be hired by the city.

A team of consultants would be assembled just for Sierra Madre's needs. The team would spend three to four days in town, meeting with community leaders, observing and making suggestions about the town's problems. Sierra Madre, if selected, would receive assistance by a design professional in areas such as building rehabilitation, facade improvements, signage and streetscaping. There would be workshops and consultations with various property owners.

State and National Main Street Center staff would visit with local business leaders to help generate community interest and state staff would be available to provide on-site assistance when necessary. There would be many visual aids, technical manuals and books distributed as further assistance.

April for diamonds

If you were born in April your birthstone is a diamond.

April — open

The month of April comes from aperire, Latin for "to open" as do buds that month.

Mars — March

The month of March was named after Mars, the Roman god of war, presumably signifying that the campaigns interrupted by the winter could be resumed.

Shooting Stars

Mexican Indians once believed shooting stars were the tossed-away cigarette butts of sky-dwelling dwarves.
